

Mrs. Sunken's Secret Life

By: Judd Heess

On December 15, 2016, at 2:15 Billy Bob was in math class at Oglesby Junior High. The bell finally rang to go to math class. Billy ran out into the hallway so fast, so he could go to the bathroom and check his swagger hair. Right after that, he would head to math class. Billy got done checking up on his swagger hair and rushes into the math room. Out of the corner of Billy's eye, he sees Mr. Sunken and lets out a huge scream. It was so loud that the whole school heard him. He felt like Mr. Rietgraf. The reason he screamed so loud was because Mrs. Sunken was wearing a bandana, leather jacket, black sunglasses, and cowboy boots. Billy Bob mustered up some courage and finally asked Mrs. Sunken "what the heck are you wearing? Why?".

"What do you mean? I'm wearing what I always wear," yelled Mrs. Sunken. Billy Bob knew that Mrs. Sunken NEVER wore that, at least in school. Billy Bob just went with it. Later that day Billy Bob's, brother, sister, mom, and dad were all going to dinner together. They stopped at an intersection on 5th street. Billy Bob looks out the side window and sees his teacher, Mrs. Sunken on a Harley motorcycle with her leather jacket, bandana, cowboy boots, and black sunglasses. Billy Bob only gets to look for a few seconds before the red light turns to green.

The next morning Billy Bob's mother wakes him up with a loud scream.

"What is it," Billy Bob screams from his bed.

"Your teacher got into a motorcycle crash," his mother says in response. Billy Bob runs downstairs when he was suddenly stopped by his mother. She showed him the article on his teacher. The article said “ Gail Sunken went into a coma after she collided with another 3-wheeled motorcycle while doing a wheelie,” Billy Bob’s mother states.

“ I knew it, I knew it,” said Billy Bob.

That day Billy Bob went to school and almost every kid in the school already knew about Mrs. Sunken. They were talking about her and the crash but, not a person talked about it after that day. Apparently they are all assuming that she will die soon. 2 years later, Billy Bob goes to school like any other day but, Mrs. Sunken was there. There was a bunch of kids around her asking what had happened. Billy Bob didn't go up to Mrs. Sunken because he knew everyone would tell him what happened to her in homeroom. When the bell rang for homeroom, they finally let Mrs. Sunken go and they rushed to class. When Billy Bob finally made it to homeroom, sure enough he heard some other kids talking about Mrs. Sunken. He found out she had been in a coma for two years and just came out of it. The amazing this is she perfectly healed from the huge crash. Talk about a miracle!
